SECTION -A

(Reading Skill, Grammar, Vocabulary, Note-making and Summary)

Q.1(A) Read the following extract and answer the questions given below:

Prominent among the urges that inspire and drive a person in life, is the urge to be a somebody. It is quite human, especially in the early stages of life, to want to do something to win laurels and admiration of all around. There's a pitfall though - the very process of becoming a somebody may subtly reduce yon to a nobody.

American poet Emily Dickinson, who lived in obscurity, has an interesting poem on this theme. "I'm nobody!" she declares, with apparent pride.

"Who are you?
Are you nobody, too?"
Why should anybody be happy about being nobody?

The poem explains:

"How dreary to he somebody!
How public, like a frog
To tell your name the livelong day
To an admiring bog!

The word 'bog' is significant. When you become a somebody, you invite adulation: this then begins to bog you down. The moment you think you have arrived, you begin to stagnate, or, worse, your downslide begins. An endless list of writers, artists, sportsmen, politicians ….. fit this pattern of personal history.

To sustain your development in absolute terms, to become a true somebody, it is important to remain a temporal nobody. Even if destiny makes you a temporal somebody, you should be able to see yourself as merely an agent of a superior power; no more. This requires an exercise of will. You have to constantly watch out and talk to yourself morning and evening.

(1) What is the main idea of the extract?
Ans. The main idea of the extract is that the writer appeals people that there is a pitfall to remain somebody hence we can remain a nobody to achieve that position of being somebody or something in life.

(2) Why is it important for one to remain a temporal nobody? How?
Ans. It is important for one to remain a temporal nobody is to sustain our development and to become a true somebody. This requires an exercise of will, constantly watch out and talking to ourself morning or evening.

(3) What does Emily Dickinson declare with pride? Why?
Ans. Emily Dickson declares with pride that she is nobody because when you become a somebody, you invite adulation. This then begins to bog you down. To sustains our development is absolute terms and to become a true nobody we need to remain a nobody.

(4) What would you like to be in your life — Somebody or nobody? Why?
Ans. I would like to be a nobody atleast temporal one so that I can achieve my targets and become somebody in life. As its rightly said that “Work hard in silence and let sucess make the noise” even I completely agree to this.

(5) Rewrite the following sentences in the ways instructed

(i) This requires an exercise of will.

Q.2. (A) Read the following extract and answer the questions given below:

But even in a poverty-free world where every man and woman would earn enough to take care of themselves and their family, there would still be situations of temporary poverty due to a sudden catastrophe or misfortune, a bankruptcy or business downturn leading to failure, or some personal disease or disaster.

A poverty-free world might see a whole group of families, locations, or even regions devastated by some shared disasters, such as floods, fire, cyclones, riots, earthquakes or other disasters. But such temporary problems could be taken care of by the market mechanism through insurance and other self-paying programmes, assisted of course by social-consciousness-driven enterprises.

There would always remain differences in lifestyle between people at the bottom of society and those at the top income levels. Yet that difference would be the difference between the middle-class and luxury class, just as on trains in Europe today you have only first-class and second-class carriages, whereas in nineteenth century there were third-class and even fourth-class carriages - sometimes with no windows and just hay strewn on the floor.

Can we really create a poverty-free world? A world without third-class or fourth-class citizens, a world without a hungry, illiterate, barefoot under-class?

(1) What is the extract about?
Ans. The extract is about imagining a world without poverty or a poverty free world.

(2) How will the poverty-free world take care of natural disasters?
Ans. A poverty free world with the help of market mechanism through insurance and other self-paying programmes, assisted of course by social-consciousness driven enterprises can take good care of people against natural disasters.

(3) According to the writer, what would, 'the world without poverty' be like?
Ans. According to the writer, ‘the world without poverty’ will be like where every man & woman would earn enough to take care of themselves & their family, save people from natural disasters, where no people can be hungry, illiterate and barefoot under-class.

(4) What can we do to help the poor in our society?
Ans. We can help the poor or needy people in our community in several ways. They are:
- By providing them education for free.
- Better understanding & creating awareness in people.
- By donating our old belongings.
- By creating a group of volunteers or with the help of some NGO.
- By donating eatables, groceries & by organising collection drives with the help of people.
- By fund raising, personal financial help & so on.

(5) Rewrite the following sentences in the ways instructed:

(i) Temporary problems could be taken care of by market mechanism.
(Rewrite the sentence beginning with 'Market mechanism……..”)
Ans. Market mechanism can take care of temporary problems.

(ii) In the nineteenth century, there were third-class carriages.
(Form a Wh-question to get the underlined part as an answer.)
Ans. Which century noticed the third-clays carriages?
(iii) There would still be situations of temporary poverty.
   (Rewrite it using 'can'.) (1)
   \textbf{Ans.} There can still be situations of temporary poverty.

(6) What do the following words in the extract mean -

(i) devastated (½)
   \textbf{Ans.} Destroyed or damaged due to disasters.

(ii) hay (½)
   \textbf{Ans.} Spread over untidily

Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan was the first Vice President and second President of India.
He was a teacher, a philosopher and an author. He had introduced the thinking of Western idealistic philosophers like Plato, Plontinus, Bergson into Indian thought.

He was born on 5th of September, 1888 in a poor Brahmin family. As his father could not afford his education expenses, Radhakrishnan supported most of his education through scholarships. He completed his B.A. and M.A. with majors in philosophy. He went on to become a professor of philosophy. He showed that Indian Philosophy, once translated into standard academic jargon, is worthy of being called philosophy by Western standards.
He thus, placed Indian Philosophy on world map.

Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan had established a strong relationship with the Soviet Union when he was appointed as the ambassador to the Soviet Union.

He has been honoured with many awards for his achievements nationally and internationally. He was honoured with the Bharat Ratna in 1954. He is also acknowledged

Yes, there was a skeleton in the cupboard, and although
I never saw it, I played a small part in the events that followed its discovery. I was fifteen that year, and I was back in my boarding school in Simla after spending the long winter holidays in Dehradun. My mother was still managing the old Green's hotel in Dehra - a hotel that was soon to disappear and become part of Dehra's unrecorded history. It was called Green's not because it purported to the spread of any greenery (its neglected garden was chocked with lantana), but because it had been started by an Englishman, Mr Green, back in 1920, just after the Great War had ended in Europe. Mr Green had died at the outset of the Second World War. He had just sold the hotel and was on his way back to England when the ship on which he was travelling was torpedoed by a German submarine. Mr Green went down with the ship.

The hotel had already been in decline, and the new owner, a Sikh businessman from Ludhiana, had done his best to keep it going. But post-War and post-Independence, Dehra was going through a lean period. My stepfather's motor workshop was also going through a lean period - a crisis, in fact -- and my mother was glad to take the job of running the small hotel while he took a job in Delhi. She wrote to me about once a month, giving me news of the hotel, some of its more interesting guests, the pictures that were showing in town.

[You may begin with : Charles : Hi Orlando! I am a famous wrestler .....

Frederick had a very famous wrestler, called Charles, in his court. He was champion of the country, and had fought many brave and strong young men. Now, Orlando was a fine wrestler, too, and decided to try his strength against Charles. Charles came to see Oliver about this, asking him to persuade Orlando to give up his idea.

'I am a professional wrestler, sir,' Charles explained to Oliver, 'and I must always fight to win, in order to keep my reputation. Anyone who fights me runs the risk of being badly hurt. Please warn your younger brother, and persuade him to change his mind.

But the wicked Oliver thought this was a good opportunity to get rid of Orlando, so he told Charles all kinds of lies about the young man. He pretended that Orlando was bad and ungrateful, and deserved any punishment which Charles could give him. I would rather you broke his neck than his finger,' Oliver said, 'and you have my permission to do what you like with the boy.'

So Charles promised to do his best to kill Orlando. 'If he comes to the fight tomorrow, I'll give him his payment,' Charles said. 'If he can walk away after I have finished with him, never wrestle again.'

Ans.

(B) Read the following extract and extend it by adding an imaginary paragraph of your own in about 120 words

Eventually I made my way to England where I was sponsored by a Jewish charity, put up in a hostel with other boys who had survived the Holocaust and trained in electronics. Then I came to America, where my brother Sam had already moved. I served in the U.S. Army during the Korean War, and returned to New York City after two years. By August 1957, I'd opened my own electronics repair shop. I was starting to settle in.

One day my friend Sid who I knew from England called me. “I’ve got a date. She’s got a Polish friend. Let’s double date.”

A blind date? Nah that wasn’t for me.

But Sid kept pestering me and a few days later we headed up to the Bronx to pick up his date and her friend Roma.

Ans.  Sid & me picked Bronx and then headed to pick her friend Roma. Roma was an air-hostess with a reputed Airways. The moment Herman saw her he fell in love with her. It was love at first sight for him. All four of them went for lunch together & than for a long drive. While they went for long drive Herman & Roma started talking to each other as this was their first melting both of them were quiet shy & hesitant earlier to make conversation. After sometime, all four of them started talking about their childhood memories. Herman wanted to confess Roma that he likes her but couldn’t do it at first. All of them were having good time with each other & now it didn’t seem that this was a blind date for Herman & Roma while they were discussing about their childhood memories & school days. Herman & Roma came to know that they were that same childhood buddies who used to share everything with each other & met after these many years. This came as a surprise for both of them.

Ans.

ABC,
To,
The Editor,
The Hindustan Times,
Plot No.-08, Mayur Vihar,
Malad (E).
Mumbai : 400060.

Subject : Noise Pollution in Hill Road.

Dear Sir,

Through the esteemed column of your newspaper , I want to draw the attention of the authorities towards the noise created by loudspeakers & vehicles in this colony. Not a single day passes, when one cannot escape from the noisy atmosphere. The sound of loudspeakers at the time of religious ceremonies, parties or wedding ceremonies adds to the noise in the area. People use the loudspeakers at a high volume, which harms our ears and other sensitive parts of the body. It impacts people of all age group but creates more problem for old age group & babies. The vehicular pollution too disturbs our health. The patients are unable to have a wink of sleep. The attention of the students is affected due to loud noise, & thus puts a direct impact on their health & studies.

I request the authorities to take remedial steps in this regard & instruct to use the loudspeakers at a lower pitch within the allotted time period. This will definitely bring a relief to all & the residents would be protected.

The residents of our locality would thank all the authorities, if necessary steps are taken at the earliest.

Thank you

Yours truly,

On 2nd October, 2017 our college organized cleanliness drive under Swachh Bharat Swasth Bharat Abhiyaan on the occasion of Gandhi Jayanti. The main purpose of this programme was to create awareness among the students regarding cleanliness & its benefits. Under this programme, all the students from 11th & 12th grade had to participate. Even professors were the essential part of this drive. As a part of this cleanliness drive, we had to clean the whole college. The sweepers of the college had to be the observers. Our principal started the programme by cleaning the corners of the playground. Then the professors & students followed suit.

Some of us picked brooms & started our job. Some of the students did the dusting of the classrooms. And others went to the playground & started picking wrappers lying scattered there. All the garbage collected was thrown in the dustbin. After this, we all assembled in college auditorium. There we were given refreshment and snacks. Thereafter our principal delivered the speech telling use the importance of cleanliness of the college for their noble job. In the end we all took oath of keeping our home, locality & city clean. It was a unique experience for all of us. We were curious to be the part of this great drive that could have transformed the face of our country forever.

Ans. Good morning everyone. A very welcome to one and all present here. Today on the occasion of World Environment Day, I would like to share my thoughts about the importance of saving trees.

Trees are a great part in our planet. Humans & other life cannot survive on this planet without trees. They are the valuable gift of nature to us. Hence, we should honour the presence of trees. It has been since long time that people have understood the importance of trees. Our country is the pioneer of the idea.

As it is always said that whatever we do to our nature they always repay us. The same way trees repay us. Trees gives us lots of benefits. Right from food, wood, houses, furnitures, etc…. trees provides us with many useful things. They give us fuel to burn, fruits to eat, spices & also many beneficial medicines. They also provide us with oxygen that quite essential for we humans. They help in reducing pollution & they are food for animals in the environment.

Now-a-days, we have promoted deforestation to a great extent nature than encouraging afforestation. Due to which there are lot of problems & consequences that are being faced by all the living & non-living things in the nature. Global warming has increased for our future generations. Hence, its an alarming time for all of us to realise & understand the importance of trees & saving our environment. Each & every citizen should feel responsible for this & take certain initiative in several ways to promote & be a part of this cause “Save Trees Same Environment.”

Thank you for your valuable time & patience.
