(Reading Skill, Grammar, Vocabulary, Note-making and Summary)

Q.1. (A) Read the following extract and answer the questions given below:

The Jahangir Art Gallery, the State Bank of India building and the canteen close by which offered affordable fare, the amazing street fare, bhelpuri and vada pav. The joy of reading Bombay Times with its page 3 people one would never meet but who seemed like old friends. The Strand bookstore where one could browse for hours. And just when a book was longingly but firmly put down from nowhere, Mr Shanbagh would materialise magically at one's elbow with a special price. Not to forget the joys of trawling the booklined pavements at Fountain, where one could watch the world go by. And wherever I chose to go, there was always my friend, the sea, oh, I loved her, in all her moods, but especially in the monsoon when violent and enraged she splattered Worli seaface with walls of sea spray. My friends are lost, some passed away, some moved away, there were many whose names I never found out, though we took the train together, or met in the lift, every day.

Like every migrant, I promise myself, someday I will return. I may, perhaps, return sometime, but even so, I know, "that one cannot step into the same river twice."

You seduced me steadily, O Mumbai, with your glamour and bright lights. City of dreams, tinsel town, I pay tribute to you. Today, I say good-bye with a heavy heart.

(1) What does this extract focus on? (1)

(3) How would the writer spend her free time? (2)

Ans. The writer in her free time used to explore about Mumbai city. She used to visit places worth visiting and enjoyed its beauty. She enjoyed the joy of reading and joy of trowing. But all of the places mentioned, sea was her favorite to spend time with as she hardly met her friends.

(4) According to you, how can you make your locality clean and beautiful. (2)

Ans. We can keep our locality clean and beautiful by refusing single use items, promote and create awareness amongst people, encourage people to recycle, reuse or reduce the usage of any harmful product, plant more trees, cultivate and buy organic products, change habits of people, avoid littering, organise and engage people for more such activities, enforce strict law for any violation of law, etc....

Q.2. (A) Read the following extract and answer the questions given below: (15)

But even in a poverty-free world where every man and woman would earn enough to take care of themselves and their family, there would still be situations of temporary poverty due to a sudden catastrophe or misfortune, a bankruptcy or business downturn leading to failure, or some personal disease or disaster.

A poverty-free world might see a whole group of families, locations, or even regions devastated by some shared disasters, such as floods, tire, cyclones, riots, earthquakes or other disasters. But such temporary problems could be taken care of by the market mechanism through insurance and other self-paying programmes, assisted of course by social-consciousness-driven enterprises.

There would always remain differences in lifestyle between people at the bottom of society and those at the top income levels. Yet that difference would be the difference between the middle-class and luxury class, just as on trains in Europe today you have only first-class and second-class carriages, whereas in nineteenth century there were third- class and even fourth-class carriages - sometimes with no windows and just hay strewn on the floor.

Can we really create a poverty-free world? A world without third-class or fourth-class citizens, a world without a hungry, illiterate, barefoot under-class?

(1) What is the extract about? (1)

Ans. The extract is about imagining a world without poverty or a poverty free world.

(2) How will the poverty-free world take care of natural disasters? (2)

Ans. A poverty free world with the help of market mechanism through insurance and other self-paying programmes, assisted of course by social-consciousness driven enterprises can take good care of people against natural disasters.

(3) According to the writer, what would, 'the world without poverty' be like? (2)

Ans. According to the writer, 'the world without poverty' will be like where every man & woman would earn enough to take care of themselves & their family, save people from natural disasters, where no people can be hungry, illiterate and barefoot under-class.

(4) What can we do to help the poor in our society? (2)

Ans. We can help the poor or needy people in our community in several ways. They are:

- By providing them education for free.
- Better understanding & creating awareness in people.
- By donating our old belongings.
- By creating a group of volunteers or with the help of some NGO.
- By donating eatables, groceries & by organising collection drives with the help of people.
- By fund raising, personal financial help & so on.

(5) Rewrite the following sentences in the ways instructed:

(i) Temporary problems could be taken care of by market mechanism.

(Rewrite the sentence beginning with 'Market mechanism.....') (1)

Ans. Market mechanism can take care of temporary problems.

(ii) In the nineteenth century, there were third-class carriages.

(Form a Wh-question to get the underlined part as an answer.) (1)

Ans. Which century noticed the third-class carriages?

(iii) There would still be situations of temporary poverty.

(Rewrite it using `can'.) (1)

Ans. There can still be situations of temporary poverty.

Q. 4. (A) Read the following extract and answer the questions given below : (4)

If you accept counsel without getting sore
And re-assess yourself in the light thereof
If you pledge not to be obstinate any more
And meet others without any frown or scoff.
You may be the person I am looking for.
If you have the will to live and courage to die
You are a beacon-light for people far and wide
If you ignore the jeers and, thus, expose the lie
'That virtue and success do not go side by side.'
You are the person I am looking for.

One morning I thought I heard my mother's voice.

"Son," she said softly but clearly, "I am going to send you an angel."

Then I woke up. Just a dream. A beautiful dream.

But in this place there could be no angels. There was only work. And hunger. And fear.

A couple of days later, I was walking around the camp, around the barracks, near the barbed-wire fence where the guards could not easily see. I was alone.

On the other side of the fence, I spotted someone : a little girl with light, almost luminous curls. She was half hidden behind a birch tree.

I glanced around to make sure no one saw me. I called to her softly in German. "Do you have something to eat?"

She didn't understand.

I inched closer to the fence and repeated the question in Polish. She stepped forward. I was thin and gaunt, with rags wrapped around my feet, but the girl looked unafraid.

In her eyes, I saw life.

She pulled an apple from her woollen jacket and threw it over the fence.

I grabbed the fruit and, as I started to run away, I heard her say faintly, "I'll see you tomorrow."

B) Read the following extract and convert it into a dialogue between Daisy and the Lark in about 120 words : (4)

[You may begin with Lark : I have no water.....]

"I have no water," said the captive lark, "they have all gone out, and forgotten to give me anything to drink. My throat is dry and burning. I feel as if I had fire and ice within me and the air is so oppressive. Alas! I must die, and part with the warm sunshine, the fresh green meadows, and all the beauty that God has created." And it thrust its beak into the piece of grass, to refresh itself a little. Then it noticed the little daisy, and nodded to it, and kissed it with its beak and said : "You must also fade in here, poor little flower. You and the piece of grass are all they have given me in exchange for the whole world, which I enjoyed outside. Each little blade of grass shall be a green tree for me, each of your white petals a fragrant flower. Alas! you only remind me of what I have lost."

"I wish I could console the poor lark", thought the daisy. It could not move one of its leaves, but the fragrance of its delicate petals streamed forth, and was much stronger than such flowers usually have : the bird noticed it, although it was dying with thirst and in its pain tore up the green blades of grass, but did not touch the flower.

Ans:

B) Read the following extract and extend it by adding an imaginary paragraph of your own in about 120 words :

So the good Duke and his followers helped him to bring Adam to their hiding-place, and Orlando and the old man were fed and taken care of When the Duke learned that Orlando was a son of his old friend Sir Rowland de Boys, he welcomed him gladly to his forest court.

Orlando lived happily with the Duke and his friends, but he had not forgotten the lovely Rosalind. She was always in his thoughts and every day he wrote poetry about her, pinning it on the trees in the forest. 'These trees shall be my books', he said, 'so that everyone who looks in the forest will be able to read how sweet and good Rosalind is.' Rosalind and Celia found some of these poems pinned on the trees. At first they were puzzled, wondering who could have written them; but one day Celia came in from a walk with the news that she had seen Orlando sleeping under a tree.

Ans. Celia and Rosalind decided to search Orlando in the forest where Celia saw him. So, they started their hunt. While searching through the forest they met a swallow bird. Even that bird took a halt from his work. These girls started talking to this bird & were surprised to know what this bird actually did.

The bird was actually a messenger of a statue called 'The Happy Prince' who was in the centre of the city. The statue and the bird used to help the poor & needy people in the city. The statue was made of gold, silver & precious stones and looked very attractive.

He used to notice all the needy & poor people in the city and then used to instruct the bird to remove the precious stone or gold from his statue and give it to the one who needs it which the bird used to do. Both Rosalind & Celia were amazed. After listening this, Celia requested the bird if she can help her in finding Orlando in the forest.

The bird agreed & flew away. After few hours, the bird came to both the girls and informed that Orlando was staying in a small hut in the forest with his family & guided the girls with way.

08th January, 2018.

To,
The Editor,
The Hindustan Times,
Plot No.-08, Mayur Vihar,
Malad (E).
Mumbai : 400060.

Subject : Noise Pollution in Hill Road.

Dear Sir,

Through the esteemed column of your newspaper , I want to draw the attention of the authorities towards the noise created by loudspeakers & vehicles in this colony. Not a single day passes, when one cannot escape from the noisy atmosphere. The sound of loudspeakers at the time of religious ceremonies, parties or wedding ceremonies adds to the noise in the area. People use the loudspeakers at a high volume, which harms our ears and other sensitive parts of the body. It impacts people of all age group but creates more problem for old age group & babies. The vehicular pollution too disturbs our health. The patients are unable to have a wink of sleep. The attention of the students is affected due to loud noise, & thus puts a direct impact on their health & studies.

I request the authorities to take remedial steps in this regard & instruct to use the loudspeakers at a lower pitch within the allotted time period. This will definitely bring a relief to all & the residents would be protected.

The residents of our locality would thank all the authorities, if necessary steps are taken at the earliest.

Thank you

Yours truly,

On 2nd October, 2017 our college organized cleanliness drive under Swachh Bharat Swasth Bharat Abhiyaan on the occasion of Gandhi Jayanti. The main purpose of this programme was to create awareness among the students regarding cleanliness & its benefits. Under this programme, all the students from 11th & 12th grade had to participate. Even professors were the essential part of this drive. As a part of this cleanliness drive, we had to clean the whole college. The sweepers of the college had to be the observers. Our principal started the programme by cleaning the corners of the playground. Then the professors & students followed suit.

Some of us picked brooms & started our job. Some of the students did the dusting of the classrooms. And others went to the playground & started picking wrappers lying scattered there. All the garbage collected was thrown in the dustbin. After this, we all assembled in college auditorium. There we were given refreshment and snacks. Thereafter our principal delivered the speech telling us the importance of cleanliness of the college for their noble job. In the end we all took oath of keeping our home, locality & city clean. It was a unique experience for all of us. We were curious to be the part of this great drive that could have transformed the face of our country forever.

Ans.

Good morning everyone. A very welcome to one and all present here. Today on the occasion of World Environment Day, I would like to share my thoughts about importance of saving trees.

Trees are a great part in our planet. Humans & other life cannot survive on this planet without trees. They are the valuable gift of nature to us. Hence, we should honour the presence of trees. It has been since long time that people have understood the importance of trees. Our country is the pioneer of the idea.

As it is always said that whatever we do to our nature they always repay us. The same way trees repay us. Trees give us lot of benefits. Right from food, wood, houses, furnitures, etc.... trees provides us with many useful things. They give us fuel to burn, fruits to eat, spices & also many beneficial medicines. They also provide us with oxygen that quite essential for we humans. They help in reducing pollution & they are food for animals in the environment.

Now -a-days, we have promoted deforestation to a great extent nature than encouraging afforestation. Due to which there are lot of problems & consequences that are being faced by all the living & non-living things in the nature. Global warming has increased for our future generations. Hence, its an alarming time for all of us to realise & understand the importance of trees & saving our environment. Each & every citizen should feel responsible for this & take certain initiative in several ways to promote & be a part of this cause "Save Trees Same Environment." Thank you for your valuable time & patience.
